Invitations Issued For Unveiling Sunday

The Tablet to the memory of Charles Bellini, which will be presented to the College at the exercises to be held at two-thirty Sunday afternoon, is now in place, and all arrangements are complete for the program which will mark the unveiling of the tablet.

Invitations have been sent out by the President of the College to a number of friends, and to all alumni of the College, and it is thought that a number of visitors will be present at the exercises. The invitation issued by the College is as follows: The Board of Visitors and the Faculty of the College of William and Mary request the honor of your presence at the College Sunday, January twenty-seventh, nineteen hundred and twenty-four, two-thirty o'clock in the afternoon. Addresses by P. A. Fant, Cleveland, Ohio; N. G. Nardini, Richmond, Virginia. The unveiling of the Tablet Placed in the College Chapel to the Memory of Charles Bellini, first Professor of Modern Languages in America. Given by Luigi Carnovale, of Chicago, Illinois.

All students, townspeople, and everyone interested in the College are invited to attend the exercises.

Library Receives Mercer Note Book

A lecture note book, used by Hugh Mercer, a student in 1794, was recently presented the Library of the College by Professor Pollard.

This note book, entitled "Notes on Blair's Lectures on Rhetoric and Belle's Letters," contains abstracts given by the Professors from Blair's Lectures, a well known book formerly used by colleges throughout the United States.

Hugh Mercer was the son of General Hugh Mercer, a famous general during the Revolutionary War, who was killed in the Battle of Princeton.

Dr. Pollard received the book from Judge John T. Goolrick, of Fredericksburg, who is the author of the history of Fredericksburg and has for many years been interested in the historical background of William and Mary.

The note book will be placed with similar historical material which the Library is rapidly collecting.

Mr. Swem, the Librarian, will be glad to receive information concerning the location of other library material of this type.

Flat Hat Club Met With Kenney & Young

The Flat Hat Club met at the Kappa Sigma House Monday evening, January 21, as the guests of Reginald A. Kenney and Whiting F. Young. After taking up various matters of business, Harry D. Wilkins was initiated into the Club.

The Club will hold its next meeting as the guests of Larry Green and Alva Cooke at the Kappa Alpha House.

"Wurzel-Flummery" Cast

Seat Sale Limited For Dram. Club Plays

As previously announced, the two one-act plays, "Wurzel Flummery" and "A Game of Chess," being produced by the Dramatic Club under the direction of Professor Edward M. Gwathmey and Dr. Walter A. Montgomery, will be presented at Cameron Hall, February 1.

The casts for both plays, which are being directed by Professor Gwathmey and Dr. Montgomery in the order named, have been devoting considerable time to their parts, and already have perfected their presentation to the point where success is assured.

Following the engagement here next Friday night, the Club will fill a two-night engagement in Norfolk at the Arts Players' Club Theatre, Monday and Tuesday, February 4 and 5.

The setting for the presentation of the plays in Norfolk is being handled by Mrs. Lelia Daingerfield, who has been studying at the 47 Workshop at Harvard. The settings for the "Game of Chess" will be influenced to a great extent by the Moscow Arts Players, Mrs. Daingerfield states, and, under this influence, the coloring of the scenes will be exotic in reds and golds of oriental brilliance.

Professor Gwathmey states that in order to avoid crowding in the Cameron Hall, only 250 tickets will be placed on sale and that those desiring seats should secure them as early as possible. They will be on sale at The College Shop, The Williamsburg Drug Co. and Zirkle Pharmacy, within the next few days.

Dr. Goodwin Opens "Y" Lecture Series

The first of a series of lectures on religious subjects to be given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. was delivered last Thursday night in the College Chapel, when Dr. Goodwin spoke on "Fundamentalism and Modernism" before a large audience.

Dr. Prout, Class '52, Is Oldest Alumnus

The honor of being William and Mary's oldest living alumnus, so long thought to be shared equally by Capt. J. S. Jones, of Hampton, and Capt. W. H. Graves, of Birmingham, Ala., has recently passed into the hands of another, in the person of Dr. John S. Prout, Class of 1852, a retired physician of Fishkill, New York. Capt. Jones and Capt. Graves graduated with the Class of 1856.

According to the statement of the Secretary of the Alumni Association, who announced the "discovery," Dr. Prout is in good health, and, if possible, arrangements will be made for him to attend the graduation exercises of the Class of 1924.

Debate Preliminaries To Be Held Feb. 15

Announcements have been made by the Debate Council concerning the coming preliminaries for the Intercollegiate Debating Team. The preliminaries will be held Friday night February 15, in Chapel. Professor J. G. Pollard will be the chairman of the debate and Dr. Morton, Mr. Spicer and Dr. Hamilton will act as judges. Each contestant will be allowed ten minutes for his main speech and two or three minutes for rebuttal. The question for debate will be "Resolved: That the tendency away from representative and towards direct government will invite inefficiency and unnecessary expense upon the people." This question was given the Debate Council by the Superintendent of Public Instruction of Virginia, Mr. Harris Hart, and will be the subject of debate in the Virginia Intercollegiate Debating League, which organization the Debate Council of William and Mary has been instrumental in forming.

The Debate Council has gone to much trouble to arrange for debates with other colleges and it is hoped that a large number will come out for the preliminaries.

The Debate Council has also arranged for a Tri-State Debate between the Colleges of Wake Forest in North Carolina, University of South Carolina in South Carolina, and William and Mary in Virginia.

Indians Wins Slow Game For U. T. S.

The Indians won a drab and loosely played game from Union Theological Seminary Saturday, January 19, 1924, by the score of 24-16. Both teams put up a poor exhibition of basketball for college teams.

Coach Tasker's quint seemed unable to get started, although they showed flashes of real power. Hicks, star forward and main point getter, was off form and this seemed to affect the rest of the team. Several easy shots were missed by players on both teams.

The first half ended with the score 7-5 in favor of the Indians, only two field goals being made, one on each side. John Todd made the first one just two minutes before the half ended. The second half started off with a rush, William and Mary scoring two field goals in rapid succession, but the Seminary players fought gamely and increased their total to 16 before the game ended.

The game was marked by many fouls, most of them being technical. The Indian score would have been larger had they scored more points from foul. The Seminary team showed lack of team work. Mauze playing center for Seminary, a former Davidson captain, was the star for the visitors, while Hicks, Sexton, and John Todd played the best for William and Mary.

The feature of the game was the close guarding by both teams and several long shots from the center of the floor by Hicks near the end of the game.

Recent Valuable Library Additions

The Library has received some new books during the past week which are very much in demand. Several divisions among the numerous books included in the new collection supplement the college courses in the drama, poetry, art, education, and business.

About twenty-two books of dramatic interest represent real volumes of drama, and also dramatic criticism. There are representative plays from Wilde, O'Neill, Masefield, Drinkwater, ("Robert E. Lee," and "Abraham Lincoln,"), and other famous dramatists.

The class in modern poetry is rejoicing to see Untermeyer's Anthologies of British and American Poetry, "New Voices," Wilkinson, Oxford Lectures on Poetry, "Tendencies in Modern American Poetry," Amy Lowell, Etc.

Nine new books on artistic themes present the latest problems in decorations, designing, etc.

Sixteen books relating to business administration have been installed, not to speak of the most recent arrival, a number of books which provide interesting research for the Education courses.

T. D. C. & A. P. E. Win In Second Tourney

The second set of inter-fraternity basketball games was played on the last College Night; the Theta Delta Chi's defeating the Sigma Nu's 17 to 16, and the Alpha Phi Epsilon's taking the large end of a 15 to 8 score from the Sigma Delta Tau's.

In the first game the teams seemed evenly matched and the result was in doubt until the final whistle. The game started off lively enough with both sides passing well and waiting for opportunities for good shots. Guarding on both sides was "tight" and at the end of the first half the score was only 10 to 8, in favor of the Theta's. Both quintets entered the second half with renewed vigor and the large end of the score see-sawed from one to the other. Pollard and Chandler were the bright lights for the Theta's while Wells and Van Laer upheld the honors for the sigma Nu's.

The second game was not as good an exhibition of basketball as the first. Neither team seemed to have a decided edge on the other, but it was apparent from the beginning that the A. P. E.'s were the better shots. In the first half the ball went from one end of the floor to the other, but very few baskets were made and at the end of that period the score was 5 to 2 in favor of the A. P. E.'s. In the second half the forwards seemed to find themselves and several pretty shots were rung up. The game ended with the A. P. E.'s holding the larger end of a 15 to 8 score. House and Tatem starred for the winners, with King and Meades as the Sigma Delta Tau's luminaries.

Line-ups and summary follows:

Friendship Fund To Be Raised This Week

The presidents of the various organizations on the campus decided, at a recent meeting, that the European Student Relief Fund Campaign would begin Tuesday, January 22, and end Saturday, January 26.

Over 6,000 students and professors in eighteen intercollegiate conferences in widely distributed areas of the United States, after considering these conditions, voted to continue the Student Friendship Fund at least during the coming winter. Central Michigan Normal School proved its spirit by the initial pledge of $870, but have set about to raising the amount to a much higher figure.

The meeting of the organization representatives at Willam and Mary decided that all dormitories would be canvassed during the period of campaign.

Represented at the meeting were: Student Body—A. H. Cooke.

Honor Council—W. Hoskins.
Men's Student Council—H. S. Gilbert.

Women's Student Council—Elizabeth Kent.

Y. M. C. A.—David George.

Y. W. C. A.—Mildred Vaiden.

Men's Literary Society—C. B. Quaintance.

Women's Literary Society—Edith Stone.

Men's Athletic Association—J. B. Todd.

Women's Athletic Association—Caroline Sinclair.

German Club—Virginia Isley.

Cotillion Club—Russel Stuart.

Anna Hudson, undergraduate representative of the Y. W. C. A., presided at the meeting.

Get Yourself Right For Midwinter Hops

Oh, Come All Ye Faithful, yes, come all ye who never came before, and come all ye who never expected to come. For the Mid-winter Dances will be on February 1 and 2, and if you're one of the faithful you have a pleasant surprise in store for you. From all indications these dances will be the best for a long, long time.

If you've never been before, then there's no better time to start than now. And if you never expected to go, let this word to the wise be sufficient, lest you miss the time of your life. Get your girl, or come without one, and strut your stuff.

Russell Stuart, President of the Cotillion Club, has, after much negotiating, secured the celebrated "Goff's Royal Garden" Orchestra to play for these dances. Goff's is proclaimed as the best yet, and it was only after much controversy between William and Mary and Erie, Pennsylvania, that the orchestra decided to come here.

The dances will be Friday and Saturday nights, in the gym of Jefferson, with a dansant Saturday afternoon, and, though the decorations will not be so elaborate as heretofore, due to basketball games being played both evenings, still the music will be good, the girls will be beautiful—and, well, what's a few ribbons between friends? —K. M.

SPORTS

THE DOUBLE-DRIBBLE

The big team was slightly off color Saturday night when they stacked up against the Fighting Parsons. Probably they entered the game too confident or underrated the Seminary quint. For the first 18 minutes the Indians did not make a field goal. It is hoped that they will find themselves in the game here tomorrow night and be on edge for the Spiders Monday.

* * * *

The Spider quint has three veterans and two freshmen, and the freshmen have certainly been showing up to advantage. The old men are Fray and Bethel, playing their fourth year, and Miller, former star from Lynchburg High, playing his second year on the team. The freshmen are DeMotte and Bell, stars from John Marshall High School. Miller and Fray will bear considerable attention, especially Miller who, although playing guard, is leading his team in points scored.

* * * *

The freshmen team is developing into a smooth working quint. They showed their increased ability at team play when they defeated Newport News High School in the preliminary, before the big game.

* * * *

The Richmond Blues playing here tomorrow night should not be underestimated. Dean Murray playing forward, is one of the greatest basketball men ever turned out at William and Mary. "Sleepy" Holloday, the star center, has proven the best man for this position for the last three years in Richmond. The University of Richmond defeated the Blues last week by the close score of 33 to 32.

* * * *

Coaches Tasker and Jones and Mr. Siersema are to be complimented on the continued success of the College Night programs. The boxing and wrestling matches brought a great deal more skill and science into display than those of the previous week. The basketball games between the fraternities continue to be a small riot.

* * * *

The freshmen of this College will see the best basketball game of their life, if they are able to crowd into the gym Monday night, when the Indians and the Spiders clash in the first of their basketball games.

Varsity Who's Who

Horace Hicks, captain of the William and Mary team, is playing his fourth year on the varsity. Hicks came here from John Marshall High School where he starred on the basketball and baseball teams. He kept up his fine work here and has been one of the mainstays on both the basketball and baseball teams while here. He is recognized as one of the flashiest forwards in the State, his playing being of the sensational variety at all times. He is a good leader, having the fighting qualities necessary for that position.

Vincent Sexton, center, is hard to beat on the jump and his ability in this department gives his team a big advantage. He is an excellent shot and a heady player. This is Sexton's second year on the varsity, having made the team his first year. He is one of the mainstays around which Coach Tasker is building his team and he scores a great number of his team's points.

"Flicky" Harwood, guard, is playing his third year on the varsity and is one of the best defensive men on the team. "Flicky" is one of the two four-letter men at W. & M. and plays a good brand of basketball in every game.

John Todd, captain of the football team, is the other four-letter man here and he plays a forward position along with Hicks. John is playing his second year on the varsity and plays basketball as well as football. He is a clean, hard-fighting player and one of the most dependable men on the team.

Lee Todd, freshman star on the football team last fall, is demonstrating his ability on the courts now. He is playing a guard position on the varsity and his close guarding has been a feature of every game played by the team so far. He is the most promising man on the team.

John Marshall, guard, is playing his first year on the varsity, coming up from last year's scrubs. He has the qualities necessary for a good basketball player and is one of the hardest working players on the team.

Denton, forward, has been showing up well and is playing on the varsity for the first time. He has speed, is a good shot and is an aggressive player.

Art Matsu, after starring in football, is another freshman who has proved his worth in basketball. He is out of the game now due to injuries but had been playing an excellent game at forward up until the time of his injury.

"Bull" Metcalfe is playing his first year on the varsity, having starred at Fork Union Military Academy last year. He is playing a guard position and bids fair to be one of the most valuable men on the team with a little more experience.

"Sam" Burke is a former student at the College who has been to the Naval Academy but was forced to resign due to eye trouble. He is playing a guard position and gives promise of being a great player.

"Clem" Cofer, after getting a late start, is now showing good form and is a substitute center on the varsity. He was on the squad last year and will undoubtedly break into the lineup many times this season.

Alumni May Take Part In Athletics

Active alumni participations in the control of athletics at the College of William and Mary is foreshadowed by the appointment of four alumni from the Board of Managers to meet with the Athletic Committee and assist in its work.

The alumni are to report to the Board of Managers at its June meeting the desirability of having alumni share with faculty and students the responsibility of athletic administration.

The four alumni appointed are J. E. Wilkins, A. H. Foreman, Channing M. Hall and Charles A. Taylor.

Three W. & M. Stars On Ex-College Quint

Three former William and Mary basketball stars, J. T. Henley, C. G. and E. H. Pierce, are now the fast Alexandria quint.

This team, composed of ex-college stars, was defeated Saturday night by the Boat Club Quint of Richmond, in a nip and tuck affair, ending in a 25-19 score.

Piedmont Students Form Organization

At a meeting of the students from Piedmont Virginia in the Math Room Tuesday night, the Piedmont Club was organized and the following officers were elected:

President—Jas. A. Doyle.

Vice-President—..... Gilbert.

Secretary—Miss Mildred Barksdale.

Treasurer—Miss E. Lee Fearn Cabell.

Upon a unanimous vote of the Club, it was decided to hold meetings at regular intervals, the time to be decided upon by a committee appointed to outline some definite work for the Club, along lines that will aid the College in its development.

Only 15 girls have registered for the debating contest to be held soon. Mr. Irving White, who is directing the contestants, met the applicants in Chapel January 21. The best debaters among the girls trying out will be selected to represent the College in intercollegiate meets.

Enrollment Figures For Winter Term

The enrollment for the second quarter, according to figures in the Registrar's Office, is, to date, 825 students, showing a slight decrease from that for the autumn quarter. Of this number 42 are new students, making the total enrollment for the two quarters 889.

Of the number withdrawing from College at the end of the autumn quarter, four completed the work for graduation, while several others expect to teach for a while and return to College later.

Art Club Met Last Wednesday Evening

William and Mary Art Club held the second of its bi-monthly meetings, Wednesday evening in the Art Room in north wing of Main Building.

An interesting program was presented, and matters of business were discussed.

For, smiling with perfect composure,
Said sweetly, "The drinks are on me."

Sinclair Lewis' "Main Street" sold 60,000 copies in Germany, and when Lewis received his royalty check in London he cashed it for five shillings—or about one dollar American.

The golfer in the Fiji Islands finds conditions to his liking. Having sliced, pulled or topped his ball the player merely follows it along the line of plants which shrivel at the touch of an object. The golf links are covered largely with this sensitive plant.

Education by mail for those who live in remote rural districts of Alberta is being prepared by the Alberta Minister of Education. From twenty to forty lessons will be given each applicant for the service.

An Egyptian divorce paper made out 283 B. C. has been discovered by a translator at the University of Pennsylvania museum. It states, "I have abandoned thee as wife. I have no claim on earth against thee on account of a wife today onwards; instantly, without delay."

Interesting Relic Found Near College

An old, rusty, handmade blacksmith tool, found by Dr. Morton in his yard, furnishes evidence that a blacksmith shop once stood there. The tool is made of a small iron rod bent around an iron spike and twisted back to form its own handle. It is as crude as some of the Indian relics to be found in the Library.

Dr. Morton has given it to the Library Museum.

No doubt the horses owned by citizens of Middle Plantation and early college students were once shod with this crude implement.

Good Bouts Mark 2nd College Night

An interesting exhibition of boxing and wrestling given by the students under the direction of Mr. Siersema completed the program of this week's "College Night." Three boxing bouts, of three, two-minute rounds, and a wrestling bout of ten minutes composing the events.

The first bout between Chalkley and Bain resulted in a decision for Chalkley. Chalkley had a more confidence and his offense proved too strong for the weak defense of his opponent. Several solid blows were landed and Bain was usually at the other end, but he displayed a good deal of grit and determination, forcing the fight in the last round. Chalkley's guard saved him several times.

The second bout between the heavyweights, Davis and Hastings, resulted in a decision for Davis. Davis forced the fight from the first minute and Hastings was forced to remain continually on the defense and to retreat before his opponent's onsets. Davis landed several with his right that dampened the spirit of his opponent. Hastings' defense was easily penetrated but he came back time after time and displayed unusual staying powers.

The last of these ring contests between Winder and Goodwyn resulted in a decision for Winder. He started on the offensive and continued it throughout the bout. Goodwyn's defense was probably the best of the two and it was only after he had weakened that Winder was able to accomplish much. This match was fast and more science was displayed than in either of the preceding. Winder's better physical condition gave him the edge as the fight progressed and was in a measure responsible for the stunning blow he delivered to his weakened opponent in the last round. This blow was probably the hardest landed during the ring contests. Goodwyn was knocked to his knees, stunned, and Winder was pronounced the victor.

A mat bout between Gornto and House completed a most enjoyable evening. The matmen were evenly matched because what Gornto lacked in strength was balanced by his superior knowledge and science. At first Gornto seemed to have the edge and almost succeeded in touching Houses's shoulders to the mat. This was the only approach to a down. The judges decided the mat bout a draw, as neither secured a fall.

This second College Night was an even greater success than the first and a large number of students, members of the faculty, and friends of the College were present.

Benjamin Franklin

Jan. 17th was the 218th anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin, the most versatile man America has produced. Franklin was a radical in the first and best meaning of that term. He went at the root of all things, and his greatest ambition was to make the world better and life richer and more abundant.

It is impossible to "classify" Benjamin Franklin, because he was distinguished in so many directions—as printer, discoverer, inventor, founder, scientist, philosopher, author, publisher, financier, statesman and diplomat. And in all directions he was successful.

Franklin was great in intellect and great in heart. He had an understanding mind, but he had also an understanding heart, which beat in sympathy with all mankind, and while he could fight and did fight, he was a man of peace and it was his aim always and his earnest desire in all his negotiations for his Government with foreign Governments to promote peace and good will.

As far back as 1731, he reduced to writing some "observations on my reading history in the Library," and among them was the following: "There seems to me at present to be great occasion for raising A UNITED PARTY FOR VIRTUE, by forming the virtuous and good men of all nations into a regular body, to be governed by suitable good and wise rules, which good and wise men may probably be more unanimous in their obedience to than common people are to common laws. I at present think that whoever attempts this aright and is well qualified cannot fail of pleasing God and of meeting with success."

If the United States under the leadership of Woodrow Wilson, had joined the League of Nations in that spirit, it could not have failed of pleasing God and of meeting with success.

DR. GOODWIN OPENS "Y" LECTURE SERIES

Dr. Goodwin took neither side in the controversy which is now raging in some of the churches of the country, but expressed his opinion that both sides have good and bad points in their argument. He stated that he did not believe in evolution as it was defined by William Jennings Bryan, but that he did believe that God worked out his plans and purposes through a gradual development in nature. "The greatest cause of misunderstanding in things like this,"

said Dr. Goodwin, "is in the lack of proper definition." Speaking of scientific discoveries, he said that no fact produced and proved by science can be contrary to the Divine purpose and plan.

These meetings will be continued throughout the Winter Quarter every Thursday night at 6:30 o'clock, all members of the student body and citizens of Williamsburg being invited to attend.

W.-M. Not Represented At Prohibition Meet

Through a misunderstanding, no representative was sent from William and Mary to the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association Conference held at the Raleigh Hotel, Washington, January 13 to 18.

The conference consisted of representatives from many colleges who are trying to bring about closer cooperation between student prohibition groups.

Among the speakers of note at the conference were Admiral W. S. Simms, William J. Bryan, Gifford Pinchot, Governor of Pennsylvania, and President Calvin Coolidge.

New Highway Link To Be Opened February 4

The final link in the Peninsula end of the "Coast-to-Capital" highway was completed on January 14, when the contracting company poured the last foot of cement in place. The road will be opened to the public on February 4, making it possible to travel from Williamsburg to Newport News, Hampton, and Old Point without leaving the concrete. The so-called "missing link" in the highway, just completed, lies between Lee Hall and Blow's Mill.

With the completion of this road comes the announcement that the entire "Coast-to-Capital" highway will be finished and ready for traffic by June 1, if nothing unforeseen happens. The road above this city is open beyond Toano and the final stretch will be of concrete, with the exception of about ten miles of improved gravel.

It is interesting to note that the completion of this highway will also mark the first substantial step in linking up the roads and highways which will form the great "Roosevelt Midland Trail," a trans-continental highway, stretching from San Francisco on the Pacific to Newport News on the Atlantic. The new national highway has been planned carefully and is designed to link the entire country at a point running through the heart of the United States. Throughout its entirety, it will be of modern construction and can be said to be the best of the several highways, which are either now in use or will be shortly thrown open to the commercial and tourist traffic of the nation.

According to the plans of the Midland Trail, Historic Williamsburg with its treasures of history will be on the main highway. Once Capital of the "Old Dominion," it will witness the pilgrimages of Americans from far and near to stand upon the ground consecrated so long ago by the forefathers of the Republic.

Various patriotic and public spirited organizations of the State have called the attention of Virginia to the fact that a short stretch of road, seven miles in length, is all that is lacking to connect Williamsburg with old Jamestown, the "Cradle of the Republic." Governor Trinkle made mention of this fact in his address to the General Assembly on January 9, and favorable action on the part of the Assembly will open up to the State and nation by means of a highway, the first and dearest shrine of America.
